

Tens of thousands came to Washington on Saturday and stood for truth in elections. Freedom-loving Americans are standing up and want every legal vote counted, but will not tolerate election fraud. May God expose the corruption that occurred during this election. THE BATTLE IS THE LORD'S.

The streets of Washington, D.C. were filled with freedom-loving Americans on Saturday. As the investigation and lawsuits go forward, the election is still undecided between President Trump and Joe Biden. As we reported earlier, there is an information war. Major media is suppressing the very credible reports of sworn affidavits, eye witnesses, and documents that are going to be presented in court in key battle states that may change the numbers dramatically in favor of President Trump in those states.

We must also report that there were people assaulted at the MAGA rally in Washington, D.C. on Saturday. Trump supporters who peacefully marched were later assaulted by thuggery gangs of BLM and ANTIFA. The videos have been posted on Parler, Twitter and other social media platforms, and they are disturbing. We need to continue to pray. God is at work. Something big is about to happen in our country. We have been praying for the darkness to be exposed, and it is being exposed. God cares for the unborn as we do. He cares for his people Israel, and he cares for his people that call upon his name. This election is not over, and there's something even greater going on in our country. So we ask you all to continue in sincere prayer for our nation. If you click on the image above, it will take you to the Christian Broadcasting Network story that includes videos of the attacks on marchers. WARNING: The videos are disturbing.
